Medical Authorities endorse

Choc-o-Yeast The Chicago Medical Recorder, official journal of the Tri-State Medical Society, in its issue of December, 1925, says about Choc-o-Yeast:

"Yeast is now widely employed by the medical profession. . . . There is strong clinical evidence of its usefulness. . . Dried Yeast has been much used in France and a method perfected by which it retains its activity. The Home Yeast Company furnishes the dried product in a most palatable form, coated with a rich covering of chocolate. In this form it is most acceptable to the patient and particularly to children."

Everybody knows the health-giving qualities of full strength yeast. It is a well known fact that the greatest benefits come from foods that taste good. So take your yeast in this most palatable form. Eat Choc-o-Yeast regularly. It is always tresh. Try a 10c package today, or the economical $1 box. Buy it from your grocer or druggist.

| Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—[Spechal.]—Determined to drive the last vestige of Mitchellism from the army secretary of War Dwight Davis today ordered a sweeping inquiry into charges that officers of the army air service were using disloyal means in the fight for a separate air corps.

The secretary has been informed that friends of William Mitchell are seghting the air policies of President Coolidge and making every effort to influence congress to pass the Wainwright bill, which calls for a separate air corps in the army.

It is charged that circulars calling for every officer to "get busy and fight now for a separate air service" have been prepared in the army air service official, as long as he retains office, official, as long as he retains office, official, as long as he retains office, of the convicted by an army court martial.

Davis Orders two inquires are convicted by an army court martial.

Davis Orders Two Inquires. Maj. Gen. Misson M. Patrick, chief of the air service, has been ordered to conduct a thorough inquiry. The most important phase of the inquiry, however, has been placed in the hands of Maj. Gen. Eli A. Helinick, inspector general of the army.

Upon taking office, Secretary Davis issued notice to the heads of all departments that he intended to have loyalty and teamwork. At that time he declared that he would take drastic action if it was found necessary in order to drive disloyalty from the service. For that reason it is believed court martial action will follow unless chandestine propaganda is stopped. In ordering this investigation, Secretary Davis quotes President Coolidge's order affirming the court martial sentence for Col. Mitchell. "Every official, as long as he retains office,

Gen. Patrick prepared a bill calling for a separate air corps and has since advocated this bill before the house military affairs committee. The attention of officers is called to this testimony in one of the unsigned offending circulars which has reached the office of Secretary Davis.

TOPEKA, Kan.—Mrs. Carrie Nation has left Topeka to enter the lecture field after being publicly branded to her face as a coward. Indignation is the keynote of sentiment among the temperance women of Topeka and it is charged in some quarters that the saloon smasher is content to rest upon the notoriety she has already achieved and will in the future be satisfied with the emoluments of the rostrum as being a more lucrative pastime than the destruction of plate glass mirrors and whisky bottles.

What we should like to recommend to the planning commission, however, is that they do not longer routes east and west. Their latest plannalle for a road in a general north and south direction. WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Peace convention has organized by making John Tyler, of execrable memory, its chairman, and John C. Wright, a venerable knight of the quill, its secretary. The convention commences its labors under flattering auspices. Her daughtes, 5 years old, was being treated by a physician for scarlet fever. He never examined the throat. Finally, she was found to have diphtheria in an advanced stage. A large dose of antitoxin was given at once. The throat was painted with glycerite of tannin. The next morning she coughed and almost the entire membrane came out of the throat. She attributes the coming away of the membrane to the glycerite of tannin.

It is all right to let people know of your experience, but it does not prove much.

It is proper to give antitoxin, and also to paint the throat with giverrite of tannin. Probably the largest factor in the coming away of the membranes is nature. It is natural for a diphtheria membrane to be thrown off in time. There Are Some Things, if You Please, That Respectable Goat Will Not Do. RHL: Why ruin your digestion licking postage stamps? I am fully convinced that a wife will leave her husband if he splits his infinitives and insists on reading the sport page; that all people are inconsequentials who do not feign an affection for futuristic stuff; that something must be done about the lower classes; that love is a light fancy, a delusion that vanishes with the first visit of the bill collector after marriage; that only thought matters and actions are pretensions to be lightly overlooked. I believe the most essential improvement is the lake shore extension from Grant park to Jackson park, with its islands, lagoons, and boulevard. Every acre of made land is worth its construction cost, if not more. The commissioners' resources should be conserved to assure completion of this work, so that we shall not find ourselves with a bunch of mud piles out in the lake, which cannot be completed as planned because of a lack of money due to the exhaustion of the commissioners' bond issuing powers.

SOUTH PARK BONDS.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—The proposed new bridge across the river's mouth will cost about $8,000,000, to provide which a bond issue will be necessary, the south park commissioners' share being $4,000,000.

Permit me to point out the necessity for conservation of the bond issuins power of the south park commissioners, and the necessity of selecting out of many projects only those most needful and beneficial. The state constitution limits the indebtedness of the south powers.

For the foregoing reason, and also because of the injustice of saddling south side taxpayers with an expense that ought to be borne by the whole city, I ought to be borne by the wante city. I brought my injunction suit to prevent the $5,000,000 issue of bonds for the reconstruction of the Fine Arts building in Jackson park. Kemarkable invention revolutionizes steam heat

Just a simple change on radiators will make two dollars worth of fuel do the work of three and give you a warm house, night and day.

JOFFMAN No. 2 Vacuum Valves on radiators in-In stantly convert one-pipe steam heat into a vacuum system because they prevent air from getting back into the radiators after it has once been forced out.

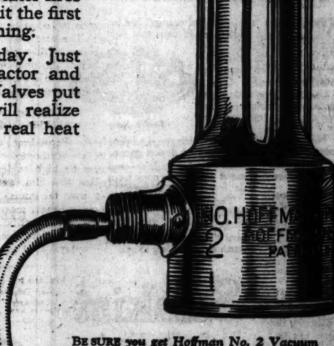

It requires but a few moments to change every valve in an ordinary house to a Hoffman Vacuum Valve. There is no confusion—no dirt—no noise. The fuel you save in a single winter may easily pay the cost. There is nothing about them to adjust or to get out of order. They are guaranteed to give five years of satisfactory service.

Hoffman No. 2 Vacuum Valves do more than save fuel. They make radiators stay hot hours after fires are banked in the evening and they permit the first warm steam vapor to circulate in the morning.

Change to Hoffman Vacuum Valves today. Just telephone your plumber or heating contractor and tell him you want Hoffman No. 2 Vacuum Valves put on your radiators. This very night you will realize how the magic of a vacuum has brought real heat comfort into your home.

Why Hoffman Vacuum Valves save fuel

WATER normally boils at 212 degrees. With your one-pipe steam heat where the steam must force the air out of the radiators, in average systems it takes as much as 220 degrees of heat to keep the water boiling. In plants equipped with Hoffman Vacuum Valves which lock the air out and which draw the steam up into the radiators, the water starts boiling at 190 degrees or less. That is why Hoffman Vacuum Valves not only give quick, even, continuous distribution of heat in all radiators but do it at lower fuel cost.

True story of a girl who wanted thrills!

WITH every advantage that fond parents could give her, no girl ever had better reason to be contented with life and its glowing possibilities than Marion.

Yet at seventeen, she was desperately unhappy. A feverish desire to escape the commonplace routine of home possessed her.

To Marion's eager, restless mind, life in the town where she grew up seemed pitifully slow and insufferably dull.

She longed to spread her untried wings and fly, she cared not where, just so it were some place where she might be free from the stupid, silly, unreasonable restrictions of home.

She wanted to feel the throbbing surge of life; to hear the music of gay and careless laughter. She dreamed of a life of new, strange pleasures; of romantic adventure; of an existence crowded with excitement and thrills.

And the dream came true - but it also brought an awakening of bitter disillusionment and sorrow that were to live in her memory for many years.

But she had no inkling of all this when chance unexpectedly transported her to Paris—the city of a thousand delights. Without experience, knowing nothing of the world and its countless pitfalls and temptations; living only in the hectic, rose-colored world of her vivid imagination—she suddenly found herself an unwilling but almost helpless prey of forces grimly determined to bring about her downfall:

What Marion went through in the gay French Capital is a powerful, heart-gripping drama of human motives and swift action. And it is all the more convincing and thought compelling because every word of it is true.

Countless girls who are chafing under the feguards and restraints of their simple home surroundings will find, in this vivid story of Marion's unhappy experience, a lesson that they cannot learn too soon. Young people everywhere who cherish the belief that they are being cheated of life's pleasures - and who long to taste the wine of adventure, romance and excitement in far-away places, will read here a warning they cannot help but heed.

Marion's story, entitled "I Wanted Thrills," appears complete in True Story Magazine for March.

No matter who you are or where you live -no matter how much you think you know about life, you owe it to yourself to get the March issue of True Story and read Marion's own account of her thrilling experience. And this is only one of the many absorbing true life narratives that appear in this issue of America's most interesting, most helpful, most widely read magazine.

Other Gripping Stories in the March True Story Are:

"Dark Ways"—The power of evil in the great city was never more vividly illustrated than in this pitiful story of a girl who was compelled by fate to match her innocence and inexperience against the wicked purposes of a rich and powerful man. A story every girl should read.

Your Story May Win a Big Prize in True Story's $50,000.00 Contest

The publishers of True Story Magasine are going to pay $50,000 to three hundred and eleven men and women in smounts ranging from $5,000 to $100 in exchange for true stories. Why not be among them?

Never was such an offer made before. Never before did men and women who are not professional writers have such a glorious opportunity to turn their life experiences into handsome sums of money. Nearly every man and women has lived at least one story which because of its unassafiable truth, because it is actually a part of the life, the sorrows, joys, experiences of a fellow human being, has more power for good, more power to thrill and charm and hold the reader than any fiction story

We are making this offer because we want to attract the attention of people in every walk of

We are now receiving ample stories to maintain True Story indefinitely upon the high plane it occupies, but if it is humanly possible to raise the quality of True Story to an even higher plane, it is our desire and intention to do so. And in order to get the best, most poignantly interesting, most thoroughly helpful stories procurable we do not want a single life experience to escape us.

For rules and conditions of this memmoth Con-set turn to page 65 of True Story for March.

"The Secret of Her Past"—When he swept her to the altar after a whirlwind courtship lasting but a few days, he was the happiest young man in the world. Intoxicated by her beauty, her personality, her wit, it never occurred to him to question who or what she had been before he met her. But when the clouds of suspicion began to darken the sky of his life—well, read what happened. Here again we have the old question: "Should a woman tell her husband everything?" In this hearternoons true-life story, the thing?" In this heart-gripping true-life story, the question is answered in a way you won't soon forget.

"The Evil-Doer"-In every city, village and hamlet there are one or more representatives of a certain profession that is held in the highest respect and esteem by every family. Yet the members of this profession have opportunities and temptations to do evil under the guise of good that, if exercised, would mean the eternal damnation and ruin of "sentimental" wives and innocent, trusting daughters, everywhere. This tragic story, written right from life, is a case in point, and it will give you something to think about.

In True Story Form It is not the purpose of True Story Mag-azine to preach. Yet, in the sense that this great magazine reveals the Truth about life, every one of its stories is a powerful sermon. Just as the minister, through his broad sympathy and deep understanding, seeks to guide his people into the ways of righteous living and happiness—so True Story Mag-azine, through its true-life chronicles, sends out its message of hope, inspiration and en-couragement to the millions of readers who make up its vast audience.

Human experience has proven that there is no better way of reaching the hearts and minds of the people than through actual examples.

And that is what True Story Magazine does. By revealing the mistakes, the follies, and often the tragedies of others—as well as the glad triumphs of right over wrong, it serves as a true guide, a friendly counsellor, and an unfailing inspiration to hundreds of thousands who might not be reached in any other way.

To be true, to be human, to be genuinely helpful—that is the mission of True Story Magazine. If you are unacquainted with this great publication, start with the March issue. You will find it not only fascinating reading, but in every respect a magazine of unusual interest and worth.

Will there be new uses for it? Will there be enough

What will the price be? It is interesting to con-template its probabilities in our rapidly changing world.

Fifty years ago, oil wells were about 70 feet deep. The cost to "bring in" oil was a few hundred dollars. Today, wells are from 3,000 to 6,000 feet deep and it costs $50,000 or more to "bring in" oil.

The best way is to have it on velops, get it as soon as you can. Get

Twenty-two per cent of all the oil wells drilled in 1920 were dry—twenty-five per cent of all the oil wells drilled in 1925 were dry.

What will be the percentage in 1930?

In the past twelve and a half years, dry wells cost approximately $700,000,000 and in the same period producing wells which failed to return enough oil to pay their cost sustained an aggregate loss of another $500,000,000.

Wherein do these losses affect the price of gas-oline, you ask?

They have an intimate bearing, because they must be absorbed by the industry and be spread over the productive wells.

But they supply only part of the answer to the fluctuating price of gasoline. There are scores of other hazards and factors over which no man or group of men have any control which must be considered.

A few years ago the nation was confronted with what Then the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) by reason of commercially successful cracking processes, which it had developed, saved the situation.

This Company was able to double the yield of gasoline from a burrel of crude.

Without Standard Oil Company (Indiana) cracking processes it is conservative to state that you would be paying a corresponding double price for gasoline today. That was constructive service of inestimable value.

But what about tomorrow? Who knows? For the week ending January 16, 1926, the daily average production of crude oil in the United States was 76,050 barrels less than it was during the same period of 1925.

For the week ending January 23, 1926, the daily average production of crude oil in the United States was 19,250 barrels less than for the week preceding.

If these decreases continue, the age-old law of supply and demand can be expected to exert itself and the price of crude oil will advance. If history repeats itself, the price of gasoline and other petroleum products can be expected to advance, unless other factors intervene.

It is with these problems that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) must grapple, that you may have an unfailing supply of gasoline, when and where you want it, at the most reasonable price at which it is possible to supply it.

An long as the world goes on economic conditions

As long as the world goes on, economic conditions will change and the price of gasoline probably will fluctuate, but the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) with its research and business foresight has done much to stabilize and keep the price down.

Whether the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) will be as successful in inventing ways and means to combat the caprices of nature in the future is to be seen.

But when economic laws thrust themselves into the situation and cause fluctuations in gasoline prices, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) asks the people of the Middle West to consider the myriad factors having a bearing and known only to those in daily intimate touch with the oil industry.

It asks them to appreciate that this Company is constantly exerting all its energies to supply gasoline at a price which will reflect only the cost of crude oil, manufacturing and distribution, plus a small and reasonable profit.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana) served you yesterday, is serving you today—it will do so tomorrow.

Wants the Bonding Law Held Intact

Do you know what the cab-bonding law is? It is a measure passed by the Illinois Legis-lature requiring owners of cabs to file a bond for $2,500 to guarantee financial responsibility.

The intent of the law is to force irresponsible cab-owners and operators to realize that in the event they injure anyone or cause damage to property, either purposely or other-wise, they will have to pay.

The law-makers feel that no one should be allowed to operate without a checkrein-that no one should be beyond the law or receive a municipality's stamp of approval in the form of a license unless he can be held

Certain cab-interests in Chicago evidently don't want to be held responsible, and they are trying to defeat the cab-bonding law. They appealed to the Superior Court to have it de-clared unconstitutional. But Judge Foell upheld it. They carried it to the Supreme Court of Illinois, and that body upheld it. Now they have it in the Supreme Court of the United States on appeal.

All this is mighty expensive and we feel that the public is entitled to know who these people are and why they seek to evade a law that was passed for public protection.

Other states have a similar law. New York and Pennsylvania find that it has had a wholesome effect on the attitude and actions of cab-owners and operators. And that Illinois and Chicago needs such a law, there can be no possible question.

Yellow Cab willingly filed its bond as soon as the law was passed. This is only a gesture, however, because by the very nature of its organization, its great financial resources and the standing of its operators, it is finan-cially responsible anyway.

MORAL, ORGAN-IZED and FINANCIAL RE-SPONSIBILITY are the bulwarks of this greatest and most successful of all cab

Mr. Hamilton Begins His Job

Back of anything that people do are certain values which cause them to do that particular thing. And when over half of the people of any given community are all doing one particular thing you don't try to analyze the people; what you try to do is to analyze the values in that particular thing.

Mr. J. R. Hamilton has assumed the rather interesting work of analyzing the columns of one newspaper in the columns

The Chicago Evening American has chosen Mr. Hamilton because he adds to a long, practical experience in this field, a broad, educational background to build upon. Mr. Hamilton begins his analysis of rather an interesting newspaper situation in this page.

NE of the chief values people have in life today is the value of Getting Ahead.

Now the problem that has been set us is to find out why the Evening American, at three cents a copy, can sell about five hundred thousand papers every evening, while its chief competitor, at two cents a copy, can only sell around four hundred thousand.

Five hundred thousand copies of a paper, with three readers to a paper, represents over half the English reading population of the city of Chicago.

The next step in the analysis is simple. If the aims and ambitions of any people are largely centered on Getting Ahead, and if over half of those people are reading one newspaper, the first thing to find out is what there is in that newspaper that is responding to those aims and ambitions.

Now, even a most casual study of this Chicago Evening American for a single week will find it fairly teeming with ideas, news and features, centered about these very values, these aims and ambitions of the American people for Getting Ahead.

This has even been carried so far that one finds a whole Business University in its columns whose faculty consists of the most outstanding business successes in American life.

These men and women have agreed to render expert advice free to all comers upon the business of Getting Ahead. How in the world the Evening American has been able to secure the services of such people free is remarkable. Perhaps they, too, are still interested in the value of Getting Ahead.

But that they do render such service themselves is beyond any possible doubt when one considers the wisdom and profundity of their answers to the questions asked.

Here is a list of the faculty of this Business University which the Evening American has founded:

Theodore F. Merseles, president of Montgomery Ward & Co. Charles H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central Railroad.

Albert M. Johnson, president of the National Life Insurance Company of the United States of America and the United States Life & Casualty Company. Samuel Insull, public utilities magnate. Col. A. A. Sprague, commissioner of public works.

& North Western Railroad. Mrs. Mabel Reinecke, collector of internal revenue Mrs. Jacob Baur, woman executive and financier.

candy stores.

Frank O. Wetmore, chairman of the board of directors of the First National Bank J. G. Chapline, president of La Salle Extra Judge Marcus Kavanagh of the Superior Court. D. F. Kelly, president of The Fair.

Frank Hurburt O'Hara, professor of English in the University of Chicago, and short-story writer. George Lytton, vice president of The Hub. C. R. Walgreen, head of Walgreen drug stores George F. Nixon, president of the George F. Nixon Company. Frank Bering, vice president and general ma of Hotel Sherman.

of Hotel Sherman.

Maj. Reed Landis, war-time ace and authors aviation, now connected with the Matteson-Fo
Jordan Advertising Agency.

Oscar G. Foreman, president of the board of directors of the Foreman Trust & Savings Bank.

John Sanderson, well-known structural engineer.

Proctor M. Fiske, director of the National Academy of Commercial Art.

Are there any young men and women in Chicago worthy of their salt who wouldn't give their eye teeth for personal contact with leaders like these? Is there any better place that one could turn in the business of Getting Ahead than to those who have gotten ahead?

Here, then, are some definite values to go by. Here is the value of Getting Ahead by which not only the people of Chicago but the whole American people set large store. It's the thing we want, the thing we believe in. And here is the Chicago Evening American in most exorbitant measure responding to that very thing.

Here is one very definite, tangible reason why nearly half a million men and women pay their extra penny every evening for one particular evening newspaper.

Getting Ahead, you see, is relative. It applies to all of us. It is forever a process in the making and never a completed job. The very verb ends in -ing.

How to Defer Old Age

As a man's hair whitens and his features become furrowed, his back bent and his girth unduly expanded, we say "he shows the mark of time." Time, however, has nothing to do with such things.

"Old age" is not a matter of years. It is a matter of health-of the condition of the body mechanism. Growing old is simply a process of physical deterioration. A man of 35 and a man of 75 may die of the same kind of "old age."

Diseases of heart, blood vessels and kidneys are manifestations of this kind of old age. By that is meant that they reflect physical degeneration. These diseases of our vital organs do not come out of a clear sky. They are always due to some poison or infection or injury. The quicker we discover such conditions and correct them, the longer and happier our life's journey will be.

The surest way to protect yourself against these degenerative maladies is to get yourself critically examined at least once every year; correct your physical defects and any sources of infection; regulate your diet, exercise, work, and rest in accordance with your physical condition and cultivate the right mental attitude toward life.

Write, telephone or visit the Life Extension Institute for information about its different examination services and for free booklets on the prevention of disease and the prolongation of human life. Send in the coupon below.

How to LIVE LONG

Everyone should be examined once a year, either by their family physician or by the Life Extension Insti-tute. The Institute's service includes a critical exami-nation of the whole body, confidential reports, sugges-tions as to any needed form of medical treatment, edu-cation in all phases of correct personal hygiene and other valuable privileges. The service covers a period of one year. The Institute renders no treatment, performs no operations, but makes a scientific survey of forms no operations, but makes a scientific survey of your life and body and submits a report which, if some form of medical attention is needed, assists your physician in making the final diagnosis and applying the necessary treatment for the correction of your physical defects. There are separate departments for women and children at the Head Office. Outside of Chicago the Institute has examining physicians in every leading city and town in the United States and Canada. Back of the scientific policy of the Institute is its Hygiene Reference Board of 100 leaders in scientific and public health work.

Now that the remarkable health value of fish is becoming so widely known, the American people are giving fish a decidedly more important place in their diet.

Today many women serve fish two, three and four times a week instead of only on Friday, as was their former custom. Fish and sea foods contain in high degree the elements that build up physical energy; they are rich in iodine and important health-giving vitamines; they are easily digested; they are non-fattening.

PICTORIAL REVIEW

Largest Circulation of Any Woman's Magazine

THE WOMEN'S MAGAZINES have now issued their circulation statements for the last half of 1925.

For the last five months of the year, Pictorial Review's average monthly net paid circulation is higher than that of any other woman's magazine. It has a substantial lead over its nearest competitor, and it leads the other women's publications by a margin of hundreds of thousands.

For the last three months of 1925, Pictorial Review's average net paid circulation is over 2,400,000 copies per issue. (We now have final figures—only estimated figures were sent to the A. B. C. for the months of November and December.)

If circulation figures are of interest to you, the above facts show Pictorial Review's dominating position.

If the kind of circulation a magazine has is a factor in your considerations, a publication's methods of obtaining its circulation are the real index to circulation quality.

Pictorial Review secures its circulation under the most stringent methods; without cut rates, without installment clubbing, without premiums, without extraordinary commissions and bonuses to canvassers, and only at the regular advertised subscription rates. Pictorial Review sells at a fifty per cent higher price, both single copies and yearly subscriptions, than its nearest competitor, the Ladies' Home Journal.

In the quality of its literature, Pictorial Review is pre-eminent. For the ninth consecutive year, Edward J. O'Brien, Literary Critic of the Boston Transcript, ranks Pictorial Review far ahead of all other women's magazines in his yearly short story review for the year 1925.

FOR over three years, thirty-nine consecutive months, Pictorial Review has had a net paid circulation of over 2,000,000 copies each and every month—a record never equalled by any monthly magazine. A. B. C. figures will show this.

With over 2,400,000 net paid copies, our excess circulation is over 200,000 per month above the circulation on which our present rates were based.

There's a little bit of MURAD in nearly every cigarette - but only a MURAD is ALL MURAD

For so long as ivory balls shall click on the green cloth, the name of Willie Hoppe will be accepted as the synonym for matchless billiards.

Other players, it is true, have approximated his greatness, but none have equaled his delicate touch, his perfect "rail-nursing," his patience and precision under the stress of a long and brilliant run.

They may suggest, in some way or another, the incomparable Hoppe, but they are not Hoppe nor will they ever be. His mould cast him and him alone.

So it is with most good cigarettes . . . with nearly every brand you may measure by MURAD's yardstick.

There's a little bit of MURAD in all of them . . . there must be . . . for a certain percentage of Turkish tobacco is essential to the palatability of a cigarette.

And it is this variable bit of Turkish in these brands that faintly suggests MURAD's winning flavor, fragrance and coolness when you smoke them.

But only a MURAD is all MURAD. For MURAD is all-Turkish—the finest grown -hence, MURAD is all-charm.

Hedrick of the Geneva station in New York, in discussing the new and noteworthy fruits, says it is becoming more and more apparent that the Sheridan is the most valuable grape the station has yet sent out. The "Republic's" Combination Checking-Savings Account is just as far in advance of the old type of bank account as is the new model automobile in advance of the wheezing, sputtering "horseless carriage" of the late nineties. With this new combination account, you can check and save through one account-do it quicker, easier and better, and at the same time you can enjoy the added advantage of paying bills by check on a big loop bank. Why not drop in today and let us explain in detail?

Buying Bonds on the Partial Payment Plan

Under our Bond Savings Plan you can now buy bonds on the par-tial payment plan just as easily as you would buy a piano, furniture or automobile. Total bonds authorized $3,500,000. Coupon Bonds in denominations of $1,000 and $500 registerable as to principal only. Interest payable February 1 and August 1 without deduction for normal Federal income tax up to 2%. Redeemable as a whole or by whole series, in the reverse order of their maturities, on any interest payment date, upon thirty days' prior notice, at face value plus a premium of ½% for each year or part thereof intervening between the date of redemption and the date of maturity; the premium, however, not to exceed 5%. Principal and interest payable at the principal office of the First National Bank of Chicago and at the head office of

THE NATIONAL CITY BANK OF NEW YORK, Trustee.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, President of The Tribune Company and Treasurer of the Tonawanda Paper Company, Inc., summarizes his letter to us as follows:

Tonawanda Paper Company, Inc., is controlled by the Chicago Tribune through ownership of its entire capital stock. The Tonawanda Company owns and operates a paper mill at Tonawanda, near Buffalo, New York, engaged in the manufacture of rotogravure and special book papers used by the Chicago Tribune and its subsidiaries, the New York Daily News and the Liberty Weekly. The plant has been completed recently and is about to commence operation at the capacity for which it was

The Chicago Tribune has agreed to enter into a contract with the Tonawanda Company whereby the Tribune will agree to purchase, or cause to be purchased, the entire output of the Tonawanda plant at such prices as will assure the Tonawanda Company profits adequate to meet all interest charges, taxes, etc., and in addition will agree to advance to the Tonawanda Company any amounts by which the profits of the Tonawanda Company shall be insufficient to meet all interest charges, taxes, and the serial maturities of these Bonds.

These Bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a first mortgage on all fixed assets of the Tonawanda Company now owned or hereafter acquired, and by the pledge, under the mortgage, of the aforementioned contract between the Chicago Tribune and the Tonawanda Company.

The Chicago Tribune does a gross business of over $25,000,000 per annum and has no funded indebtedness. Its circulation is the largest of any morning newspaper in the United States with the exception of the New York Daily News which it owns. The Chicago Tribune carries more millines of advertising than any other publication, and more money is spent for advertising in the Chicago Tribune than in any other newspaper in the world.

In order to assure a permanent supply of newsprint the Tribune has organized and owns the Ontario Paper Company, Ltd., and to obtain the special papers required for its several publications has organized and financed the Tonawanda Paper Company, Inc., and will contract for its entire output.

These Bonds are listed on the Chicago Stock Exchange.

We offer these Bonds, if, as, and when issued to and received by us, subject to the approval by counsel of all legal proceedings in connection therewith. It is expected that delivery in the first instance will be made on or about February 19, 1926, in the form of temporary bonds or interim receipts.

A Bond Yield of 6.25% with Diversified Real Estate Security

OUR recommendation of these bonds is based upon our sixty-one years of experience in making loans on Chicago real estate and upon these facts:

1. The bonds are secured by a closed first mortgage on the several properties of an established and successful industry, hav-ing unusual elements of safety.

2. These properties, independently appraised, have a value of nearly twice the amount of the loan. This large margin of safety will be rapidly increased by

3. The payments are provided for by a twenty-year lease, running beyond the last maturity of the bonds, for a net rental 2.4 times the maximum bond interest.

The Cities covenant to pay principal and interest of this loan, irrespective of war or peace or of the nationality of the bondholder. Coupon bonds.

Denominations, $1,000 and $500.

The Issuance, Purposes and Terms of this Loan have been Approved by the Bavarian Government and by the Council for Foreign Loans of the German Ministry of Finance, Berlin

The following information is taken from statements of City Officials and other trustworthy sources:

Bavarian Palatinate The Bavarian Palatinate are outstanding, they or any of them shall issue any Consolidated Cities Consolidated Cities consist other secured loans, the same security will apply to of seven important communities of the Bavarian these bonds. Palatinate, a Governmental Division of the Free State of Bayaria, situated in southwestern Germany. Their combined 1925 population was 259,280. The cities are Ludwigshafen-am-Rhein, Kaiserslautern, Frankenthal, Neustadt-am-Haardt, Speyer, Zweibruecken and Landau.

Ludwigshafen, with a population of 100,070, is the center of the German dye industry, being particularly known as the principal seat of the famous Badische Aniline & Soda Works. Other thriving activities include pharmaceutical plants, chemical factories, steel mills and machine industries. The city has one of the foremost inland ports on the Rhine. Kaiserslautern is well known for its large engineering and textile enterprises. Frankenthal is one of the centers of the beet sugar industry. Neustadt, Speyer, Zweibruecken and Landau are likewise of importance industrially.

Industrial Activity The Bavarian Palatinate, because of its favored location, has made great industrial progress, doing a great business with the Saar Basin, Baden, Hessen, Bavaria and the Ruhr District. It is a center of the iron and steel trade. Minerals and timber products are available in abundance. Manufactured articles include chemi-cals, textiles, leather, hides, glass, slates and milling products. The Palatinate is also the largest winegrowing region in Germany.

Bond Issue These bonds are the direct, joint and several obligations of the Bavarian Palatinate Consolidated Cities, which covenant to apply thereto all of their property and entire taxing power. They further covenant that if, while any of these bonds

Assets and Indebtedness The estimated value of all privately-owned land and buildings in the seven cities exceeds $177,000,000. City-owned assets, including real estate, forests, water-works, electric light plants, gas works, and other profitable utilities, after giving effect to this financing, are valued at about $37,780,000. The total external and internal debt, including this loan and after allowing for the revaluation of the paper mark debt in accordance with the law of July 16, 1925, is reported at $6,286,-

Municipal assets alone are therefore equal to over six times the total debt, while combined public property and privately-owned land and buildings are equal to thirtyfour times such debt.

Revenues and Expenditures The ordinary budget for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1926, provides for total revenues of $11,990,003 and total expenditures of $11,804,102, or a surplus of $185,901. Public utilities alone supply about one-third of total revenues and yield a substantial net profit, which for 1925-1926 is officially estimated at $663,000, which is considerably in excess of interest and amortization on the entire funded debt to be presently outstanding. Such total annual service charges are estimated to be less than 5 per cent of ordinary revenues for the present

Purpose Proceeds of this issue will be used for income-producing utility improvements, including water-works, gas-works, electric light plants and similar betterments, which are expected to result in further increases in revenues.

$6,750,000 Broadway-Barclay Office Building

AND LAND IN FEE NEW YORK CITY

First Mortgage 6% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds Dated: Feb. 1, 1926 Due: Feb. 1, 1941

Interest Coupons Due February 1 and August 1:

Callable for sinking fund at 101 and interest; otherwise, callable at 103 and interest. Kansas 2½ mills tax; Minnesota 3 mills tax; California 4 mills tax; Kentucky and Michigan 5 mills taxes; Iowa 6 mills tax, refunded upon proper application.

We summarize as follows from data developed in our investigation

MORTGAGED PROPERTY: The bonds are a direct closed first mortgage on land in fee fronting 100 feet on Broadway and 163 feet on Barclay Street, together with the 42-story Broadway-Barclay Office Building to be erected immediately thereon. The building will contain stores on the street floor, commodious banking accommodations on the second floor, and offices above. We have valued the land and building when completed at $8,938,000, giving a margin of equity above the amount of this bond issue of $2,188,000. We also have in our files the following appraisals:

Pease & Elliman, Inc.—Land Value $2,500,000 Fred T. Ley & Co., Inc.—Building Value . . . $6,619,000 Total Appraised Value $9,119,000

LOCATION AND RENTAL DEMAND: The site is that of the old Astor House, directly across the street from the Woolworth Building, and facing the Post Office. City Hall Park is only one block away. Transportation facilities by subway, elevated and street car lines are exceptionally convenient. Owing to the desirability of office and store space in a new, modern, Class A building such as this, it is anticipated that the building will be rented promptly on highly favorable terms.

EARNINGS: The net annual earnings of the property, after taxes and operating expenses and with due allowance for vacancies, have been estimated by Cruikshank & Company, a firm highly experienced in down town real estate, at $850,500, more than $325,000 in excess of the greatest annual interest and sinking fund requirements combined. This estimate is a conservative one, based on average rental lower than that now being obtained by many older and less modern nearby office buildings.

OWNERSHIP: These bonds are the direct obligation of Broadway-Barclay Corporation, of which Abraham Bricken, one of the leading builders and real estate operators in New York, is President and controlling stockholder. Mr. Bricken also controls the Bricken Construction and Improvement Company, and the companies which are the builders and owners of the Court and Remsen Streets Office Building, Brooklyn, and the builders of 62-72 West 47th Street Building, New York, City, on both of which properties we have underwritten first mortgage loans. Mr. Bricken and his associates have had long and successful experience in the ownership, con-struction and management of buildings, and have large financial SINKING FUND: Under the operations of a sinking fund, $1,949,000 of bonds will be retired in annual installments, leaving a balance maturing February 1, 1941, of $4,801,000. DENOMINATIONS: $1,000, $500 and $100.

PRICE: PAR AND ACCRUED INTEREST TO YIELD 6%.

BROADWAY-BARCLAY OFFICE BUILDING

This building is to be erected immediately, on the corner across from the Woolworth Building and facing the Post Office, in response to a definite and assured rental demand. Rental surveys of office buildings in the down town district, made recently by our own survey department, show a very low percentage of office vacancies. Nineteen office buildings in the triangle between Broadway, Reade Street and Park Row were found rented practically to capacity, at an average square foot rental in excess of that used by us in estimating the income of the Broadway-Barclay Building. The total vacancies, practically all in old structures, were approximately 3%.

An independent survey made by well known real estate authorities, of all office buildings south of Fulton Street, showed 700,000 square feet vacant out of 16,000,000 square feet of rental space, a vacancy percentage of 4.6%. Another survey by dependent brokers, covering 136 office buildings south of Chambers Street, showed vacancies of only 4.1%. These figures indicate the need for a new, modern, fireproof office building in this locality. Experience has shown that under such circumnces a new building of this character will always rent readily, as tenants prefer to move from an older structure in order to take advantage of the superior accommodations of the new one. Every indication points, therefore, to the success of this

Broadway Motors Building Corporation

First Mortgage Leasehold Six Per Cent Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

General Motors Corporation has leased the thirteen upper floors of this building for a period extending beyond the maturity of these bonds at an annual rental of $700,000, and pursuant to the terms of this lease this building will be known as

General Motors Building

Dated February 1, 1926

Due February 1, 1948

Location: The Broadway Motors Building Corporation's 25-story building, under the terms of the lease of the upper thirteen floors to the General Motors Corporation, will be named "General Motors Building." It will occupy the entire block located between Broadway and Eighth Avenue and 57th Street and 58th Street. New York City. This site is in the heart of "Automobile Row," and is directly opposite the United States Rubber Company building, the Goodrich Tire Company building and the Fisk Rubber Company building. Within a short distance on Broadway are the New York headquarters of the Ford Motor Company. Reo Motor Car Company, Buick Auto Company, Packard Motor Corporation and the Cadillac Motor Car Company. Only a half block distant is the site of the proposed new Metropolitan Opera House. Real estate experts advise that this property is the only plot in New York City having a total of over 600 feet of frontage on 100-foot streets. It is situated at the concentration point of all west side traffic leading to lower Manhattan. The building will overlook Columbus Circle, where police traffic counts show a heavier automobile traffic than on any other street intersection in the world. bile traffic than on any other street intersection in the world.

The building will be served by the Broadway-Seventh Avenue subway, the Sixth and Ninth Avenue Elevated lines, Broadway Surface car lines and the Fifty-ninth Street crosstown lines, the B.-M. T. Broadway subway and the Fifth Avenue bus line, and also the new Eighth Avenue subway under construction

Building: The building, which will have the unusual total street frontage of about 739 feet, will be a modern 25-story office structure with stores and showrooms on the entire street level. The present three-story occupied building is so constructed that 22 additional stories may be erected thereon without the necessity of substantial foundation work or without termination of present tenancies. The completed building will have a total net rentable area of about 520,745 square feet. Being entirely surrounded by unusually wide streets, the building is permanently assured the maximum in light and air protection. The outline plans and specifications have been approved by the General Motors Corporation. It will be of the best modern steel frame, fireproof construction and will be not only one of the outstanding office buildings but the fifth largest in New York City.

Earnings: General Motors Corporation has leased the upper thirteen floors for a period of 21 years from May 1, 1927, extending beyond the maturity of these bonds, at an annual rental of $700,000, or an aggregate rental of $14,700,000. These rental payments rank, in the opinion of counsel, as a direct operating charge on the General Motors Corporation and as such precede all dividend payments on its capital stock. Real estate experts advise that this is the largest single lease ever executed for office space. Cushman & Wakefield, Inc., has estimated the income of the building, including the rental received under the lease to the General Motors Corporation, to be as follows:

Maximum annual interest charges on this issue................ 360,000

The income from the space already occupied, plus that to be received from the General Motors Corporation lease, is in excess of $1,000.000, and is alone an amount sufficient to pay all operating and maintenance charges of space so leased, present ground rent? taxes, and interest on this issue of bonds. Security: These bonds will be secured in the opinion of counsel, by a closed first mortgage on the lease-hold estate, extending about 216.1 feet on Broadway, 121.2 feet on Fifty-eighth Street, 200.8 feet on Eighth Avenue and 201.2 feet on Fifty-seventh Street, and comprising a total ground area of about 32.360 square feet, together with the building thereon, and the contemplated addition. The lease of the ground extends to January 31. 2004, the rental being a fixed amount until January 31, 1962, and thereafter the least is renewable for two periods of 21 years each.

The leasehold estate, and building being erected thereon, have been independently appraised as having a value, upon completion, in excess of $10,390,000, making this issue less than a 58 per cent mortgage.

The General Motors Corporation covenants in its lease that in the event of a foreclosure under any mortgage on the fee, to which the mortgaged lea hold shall be subordinate, it. General Motors Corporation, will purchase the fee and thereafter hold, or cause to be held for the Bankers Trust Company, as Trustee, the lease-hold estate intact for the benefit of these bonds until maturity. Such a mortgage now exists upon the fee, in the amount of $2.050.000.

The appraisal of the leasehold estate is by Cushman & Wakefield, Inc., and the appraisal of the building by McKim. Mead & White. Title insurance for the full amount of this issue and adequate fire, liability and rent insurance will be carried. A surety company bond guaranteeing completion of the 22-story addition to the building, will be furnished payable to the Trustee and the General Motors Corporation.

The operation of a monthly sinking fund, beginning November 1, 1927, through purchase in the open market or by redemption, will retire the entire issue on or before maturity.

These bonds are offered when, as, and if tamed and received by us and subject to the approval of counsel. Memos Chapman, Cutler and Parket

Big Brute A Colossus among Giants

General Motors Contribution to American Industry

Born of the combined engineering genius of 1,000 of the world's foremost engineers and fostered by the gigantic General Motors Corporation, with operations covering some 144 countries, resources running in the hundreds of millions of dollars and sales aggregating One Billion Dollars yearly, comes Big Brute—a truck such as the industrial world has never seen before.

Brute in name, power, in size. Brute in terrific stamina and tremendous endurance. Big Brute is built to stand impregnable against the most brutal requirements of man and industry.

Beautiful in its brutal ugliness, Big Brute looks what it is a Colossus among the Giants of modern transportation. With the operating ease of a lithe passenger vehicle, a Fisher-Built Cab to furnish driver's comfort unknown before, and mechanical improvements years beyond the ordinary conceptions of today, it stands to change the industrial motor transportation of the world.

A Truck Without "Bugs"

From its vast engineering experience, covering the production of over 4,849,485 passenger and commercial cars, during the last 25 years, General Motors Corporation has eliminated, in Big Brute, the vital weaknesses, the engineering mistakes, the structural flaws previously common among heavy duty trucks. Big Brute is a truck without "bugs." More than 71% of all motor vehicles made and sold by General Motors are now in active service.

The motor trucks of the entire world were studied by General Motors engineers in developing Big Brute. Service records, covering the past ten years—actually the experimental development years in truck transportation—were gathered from all possible sources, throughout the world. The strength and weaknesses of all trucks became an open book to General Motors experts.

It was learned why some trucks rendered but limited service. Why others surpassed them. Why some operated under nominal upkeep, while others were economic failures. Some of those factors related to engineering, others to material and workmanship; some to operating simplicity, others to minor mistakes in design or manufacture. One by one, these factors were met, analyzed and weighed. The mistakes of these ten experimental years were corrected. A new standard in heavy transportation

Years from now another truck like Big Brute may be built. Today it cannot be fairly weighed against any other known. There is no other that's comparable In presenting it, General Motors Corporation feels that it is making an important outstanding contribution to American industry.

Sold Under GMAC Plan

Big Brute, like all other products of the General Motors
Corporation, is offered under the liberal General Motors Acceptance Corporation Plan of deferred payments—the lowest cost under which any motor car or truck can be financed on time payments.

Strongheart Does His Stuff and You Get a Thrill

One thing about the Strongheart pic-tures—they certainly do take you out on long hikes across beautiful coun-try! The villain or the hero or SOME-Vurrily a delight unto the eyes, it nothing else—and it also happens to be considerable else—this "American Venus."

The story isn't a world beater, but it's an interesting little yarn so well directed and beautifully boxed that it will sell anywhere. Technicolor photography is used in a number of the scenes with stunning effect. The action is smooth, fast, and in many places funny.

The heroine is Mary Gray, whose lovable but irresponsible father is in the beauty cream business in Centerville. Mary is engaged to Horace Niles, sappy son of the manufacturer of a rival beauty cream. Mr. Gray owes Mr. Niles money, which is why Mary feels it her duty to stay engaged. There bursts upon the town a bright son of the publicity business. He has been hired to put the Niles' cream across—but he meets Mary; and from it tender care.

Under his experienced guidance she self. As North Star he is a doggie for test, and through her experiences at that seaside resort and thereabouts much good is visited upon Gray's beauty cream.

The seaside resort and thereabouts main, holds the interest pretty well, and relaxes itself now and then with slapstick comedy that isn't bad at all.

Min. Arien's comedy serves as well as anything else available for a conveyance wherein Mr. Maude may make what he avers is his good-bye visit to the more populous American cities. The play is at least as light as the author meant it to be: it is so light that the star and his seasoned associates have their principal occupation in providing ballast for make-weight. That the piece bears a strong resemblance to one I read many years ago—"The Two Roses," by James Albery—is not pertinent, I suspect. Mr. Arlen has provided two or three comic notes for the patrons in the playbill; and in one he is at pains to tell what readers of this department of The Tannung know—that the comedy takes only its present title from his like-named volume of shorts. So far as the available records show, it was Mr. Arlen's first play when brought out in London some time ago as "Dear Father."

Man, Scientist Says

Prof. Arthur H. Compton of the department of physics at the University of Chicago believes that within the sext few generations man will make as many advances in civilization as have taken place during the $00,000 or more years of his existence on earth. Dr. Compton expressed this eptaion in a lecture last night before the Student Education club on the University of Chicago quadrangle.

"If we are ocasionally troubled by our own defects and those of mankind, it is a comforting thought that the 10-200 years of human history or even the half million years that men have lived on earth represent only a small part of what will probably be the duration of the race, and we may confidently expect a more perfect race of men to follow," he said.

"In my opinion there is no reason to doubt that our grandchildren will axoel us in distinct human characteristics as greatly as present man is in advance of the Pithecanthropus erectus, or the first true man."

Pursuing our intention to keep up our interest in corn because it is both patriotic and economical to use it, we turned to the leaflets got out by the United States Food Administration in 1917. The dish we imitated had the title "Potted Hominy and Beef," and the whole read thus: "Hominy is excellent to use as part of a one-dish dinner, if you have a fire in your stove so that you can cook it for a long time, or use a fireless cooker. Heat one and one-half quarts of water to boiling, add one teaspoon of sait and two cups of hominy which has been soaked overnight. This makes five cups. This recipe may be increased and enough cooked for several meals. Hominy is excellent combined with dried, canned, or fresh fish, or meat and vegetable leftovers may be used. Here is one combination: Five cups of cooked hominy, four potatoes, two cups of milk, two tablespoons of fat, two tablespoons of fat,

Prof. Compton said physical science provides a basis for belief in a friending of the first provides a basis for religious baliefs which have been so comforting to mankind and which have supplied him with such valuable guides for life. Physical science also shows man's place in nature's scheme and gives a program by which to live in this universe. Cut the potatoes and carrots in dic mix all the materials in a baking disl and bake for one hour."

We tried this with and without We tried this with and without a meat flavor, using cooked ham which could be used in a larger proportion than is here given for the dried beef. Since we were preparing small quantities to test we used one cup of carrots. These quantities, even when divided in half, make two small baking dishes of the so-called potted hominy.

Hollywood is the most beautiful and wonderful city of this age, located in the land of enchantment and opportunity, where great fortunes have already been made You don't have to sell lots or land, just a trip or vacation to Hollywood.

Many of our salesmen earn large, sums of money every week.

Why? Because we have a marvelous selling system backed up by a national advertising campaign which brings us in hundreds of leads.

Hollywood has the unequaled reputation of having grown from nothing four years ago to a city of approximately 20,000 population to-$10,000,000 in hotels. $15,000,000 being spent in the Hollywood Harbor project, which is being built by Gen. Goethals, the man who built the Panama Canal.

Salesmen, friends, and acquaintances of Mr. Phillips are invited to call upon him and learn our story. We need Good Salesmen.

If you had to start out today and canvas 1 person after another until you found one who wanted to buy, you'd probably get discouraged before you found one; if you had to take the inquiries we get and sell every one of them or lose your fob, you'd certainly lose it. But, if you come in here and take the leads we give you and work them you're certainly going to sell some of them, for surely ALL, the people who said they were interested in our property couldn't be kidding us. You can see at least 2 or 3 of them a day. Even if you only sold one out of ten, you can easily figure out for yrself you'd be making a minimum of '$65 per week.
